Campers Arrested

27 members of a San Francisco Youth for Service Organization spent a night in jail as a result of a weekend camping trip to the Big Sur Coast.

Arrested in a sweep by members of the Monterey County Sheriff's Tactical Squad, the entire group was booked and jailed on charges of maintaining illegal campfires. The group of 14 juveniles and 13 adult volunteers were camped at the mouth of the Little Sur River when the arrests were made.

Ramon Pina, spokesman for the group, which provides summer programs and job training for youths in the Mission District of San Francisco, told arresting officers that they thought they were on public land. No one in the group had seen any signs posting the beach private land. This has been the case with many other campers that have been arrested in a continuing operating by the Monterey County sheriff's riot-trained department to remove unwanted transients from the Big Sur Coast area.

Demo Help

The Monterey County Democratic Headquarters, 2317 Fremont St. Monterey has asked for volunteers to staff their booth at the Monterey County Fair. The organization has also asked for registrars to help with voter registration there. Volunteers are asked to call 375-0202 between 2 and 5 p.m. weekdays. The Monterey County Fair will be held Aug. 12-16.

Alabama Told to Hire Blacks

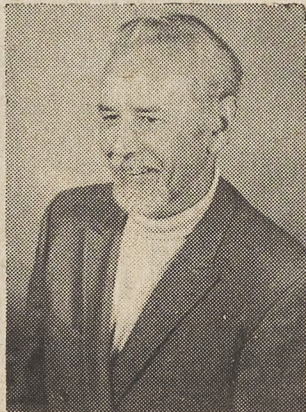

Seven Alabama state government departments have been ordered by a federal judge to begin hiring blacks as soon as positions become available that they are qualified to fill. U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson named 62 black applicants who have been racially discriminated against. Cited in the order were the state civil defense, industrial relations, education, mental health, pensions and security, personal and public health departments, most of which receive some federal money.

Seaside Ripples

A.E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

Recognition that "Seaside is Beautiful" is beginning to be shown by the confidence of the many new businesses being located here in our great city. Just the other evening we attended a private opening of the new ROUND TABLE Pizza restaurant. The young men who put in this new venture in the Olympia Plaza were quite confident that it would succeed in a big way. They spent thousands of dollars remodeling the building to make it into a charming family type restaurant. We agree, we think that they will succeed. The Olympia Plaza shopping center seems to be on the upswing. All of the businesses located there are doing a good business. For a long time we have been worried that the design of the plaza had hurt the exposure of the inside mall. In the first place they should have had another opening to the Mayfair market onto the mall and thereby creating traffic to that area. In the second place they placed the Wells Fargo bank in the key location and they certainly don't create the kind of traffic needed by a shopping center. For a long time I have been disgusted in seeing banks and filling stations put on the key corners of shopping centers simply because they have more money to bid for those locations than other businesses that would easily create more meaningful traffic for the merchants. However, in spite of these weaknesses you can detect a swing upward to the Olympia plaza. The Seaside

by M.J. Vercoe

I was asked why I mentioned in a previous column that I would object to a red flag waving in my face if I were sponsoring a parade.

As a political orphan who is unable to swallow the philosophies of either the Republicans or the Democrats or the various hues of rights and lefts, I would probably object more than most people and to more things, and I often wonder why so many people can view things so differently.

But back to the flag waving. What does it accomplish? Let's consider the red flags first.

It is generally assumed that "peace groups" represent peace, and we like to equate peace with absence of war and absence of conflict of all sorts. Without doubt many of those in the "peace groups" are sincerely dedicated to peace, but I find myself questioning their methods of attaining peace, and in the case of many so-called peace groups I question their sincerity.

As for methods, those of us who are willing to go out of our way to work for peace are definitely a minority. We couldn't muster more than maybe 1% of the vote in any kind of an election. To achieve results, then, we must convince others that we have a good idea, and that it would be in their best interests to vote as we would vote.

It should be well understood by everyone by now that things are changed or not changed in Sacramento and Washington, D.C., not by throwing bricks or lying down in front of troop trains.

Selling an idea to the general public is not easy, especially if that public has preconceived ideas and does not want to rock the boat if it has a good thing going. Thus, it is not easy to sell peace to a voter who is smart enough to know he might lose his job if peace suddenly sprang out at us, and unless he has a son in Vietnam he might find it difficult to care about moral issues. But by showing said voter with a little simple logic that the communists are tickled to death to have us destroying ourselves militarily, economically and socially in Asia, then he might be willing to sacrifice personal material wealth and change his vote—providing he is in fact interested in having America continue as a nation for his children to grow up in.

Now back again to the flag waving. How many votes does this buy? Offhand I would say it loses votes. Such tactics simply "turn people off," period. In addition, the Pentagon, et al, are happy with such demonstrations, since they need only say, "look, if these people are against the war, the war must obviously be good."

So, I question the methods of those in the peace groups who are sincere but achieving reverse results. And for those who are not sincere, but who masquerade as wanting peace but do not really, and who know that such methods are serving their purpose beautifully—well, I feel it is terribly unfortunate that the sincere ones ally themselves with them.

As for parades, I think there should be parades every month, whether we need them or not, and let everybody take part to do their thing, whatever it is, and let the viewing public judge what they want to accept or reject. Then almost everyone will be happy.

Anti-Poverty Housing Office Opens Here

Anti-Poverty Housing Director of the Monterey Peninsula, John Glass announced the opening of an office here in Seaside to serve the needs of lower-income Seaside residents. The program administered under section 235 and 236 of the Federal Housing act provides mortgage insurance for lower income families and for rehabilitation housing.

Much of the activity will center around section 235 of the act. Under the provisions of the act persons with an income of $5400 per year may qualify for housing in the $17,000. to $18,000 bracket. The payments in that group would be around $90 to $96 per month with all insurance

Gordon Fraser

Food For Thought -And Health

Gordon Fraser, B.Sc., a leading international authority on health and nutrition will be the guest speaker at the Monterey Bay Area Chapter of the National Health Federation meeting, Thursday, August 6, 7 p.m. at the Monterey Peninsula College, Lecture Forum Bldg. #103, 980 Fremont Blvd., Monterey.

Fraser will lecture on "The natural treatment of chronic diseases as practiced by renowned European physicians, with special emphasis on cancer treatments, stressing the optimum diet and a complete health program."

Over the years, Fraser has studied with world famous physicians at leading hospitals and clinics in Europe, Central America and the United States. His most recent research was with the leading cancer specialists abroad and took the special seminar at the Baden-Baden Medical Convention on Internal Cancer Therapy which was given by the famous Dr. Werner Zabel of Berchtesgaden and at the famous Ringberg Cancer Clinic in Rottach-Egern studying with the research department. In his talk, Fraser will stress nutrition and the optimum diet which Dr. Zabel maintain is the only diet for a cancer patient. He will also discuss other aids these specialists use to assure assimilation of all nutrients, and help in body regeneration.

He attended the University of Munich, Germany; the University of California, Berkeley; and did graduate work at the University of California, Columbia University, New York City and the University of Florence, Italy. He is now serving on the board of governors of the International Association of Cancer Victims. Fraser lectures extensively throughout the United States and writes monthly articles for nationwide health publications. He resides at 2115 Ocean St. Ext., Santa Cruz.

Information will also be presented by National Health Federation concerning the hazards of PG&E's proposed nuclear power plant for South Moss Landing in Monterey County.

The meeting is open to the public.

War Spending Precludes Veteran Care

Senator Alan Cranston (D, Cal.) told a national convention of the Disabled American Veterans in Los Angeles recently that the nation's veterans hospitals have reached "the hour of crisis."

He warned that unless the government reverses its five-year-old policy of restricting funds for the Veterans Administration medical and hospital system, "our veterans hospitals will be doomed to continuing deterioration and our disabled veterans will be condemned to indifference and neglect."

"At that point," Cranston declared, "the VA's once proud motto, 'Medical care, second to none,' will degenerate into 'Medical care, equal to none.'"

Cranston, who is chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Subcommittee, pledged that "I will never allow this to happen."

The Senate on July 6 unanimously approved a $125 million increase in the proposed medical care budget for the VA after a six-month-long investigation by Cranston's Subcommittee had disclosed "a dangerous and enlarging crisis" in veterans medical care because of shortages of funds and personnel. The bill is now in conference committee with the House which had also previously voted to boost the administration had originally asked for $1,889,500,000 for fiscal 1971.

Noting that the administration had vigorously opposed his demands for more money for the VA, Cranston said that even if Congress votes additional funds "we will still have to redouble our efforts to ensure that funds for the hospital program are released by the Budget Bureau and used by the VA."

Cranston blamed the budgetary policies of the past two administrations for the present medical crisis.

"First the Johnson administration, and now the Nixon administration, have held down funds for the Veterans Administration along with other domestic programs," he declared. "Both have been plagued with the problem of how to fight a war, maintain

Colonel Thomas H. Muller

Col. Muller Retires

July 31 was the last day of his army career for Colonel Thomas H. Muller, Chief of Staff for the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Ft. Ord. He retires after thirty years of service.

Muller has served CDECEC as chief of staff since August of 1969 and as chief of the command's Project Team II from February 1966 to July 1967. Before coming to CDECEC, he served in Washington, DC with the Department of Army as technical and industrial liaison officer, Office of the Chief of Research and Development.

A 1940 graduate of the US Military Academy at West Point, Muller has had a distinguished army career, during which he has received two bronze star medals for valor, two awards of the army commendation medal and he was presented with his second legion of merit medal by Brig. Gen. Thomas W. Brown, CDECEC's commander, last Friday, for superlative service to the command.

Son of a retired army officer, Muller was born in the Philippine Islands, but calls Monterey home as he and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, will remain at their home at 681 Fernwood Avenue for the future.

Last week a reception was held in Muller's honor in order that members of the command might wish him goodbye and happiness. Mrs. Muller was beside him in the reception line as was Lt James Britton, protocol officer of CDECEC.

On Tuesday, the colonels of the command held a luncheon for their departing chief at which time Muller was presented with farewell mementos, both serious and humorous, as prepared by various CDECEC units.

His parents, Col and Mrs. William G. Muller, came to Fort Ord from their home of retirement in San Francisco, to attend the farewell ceremonies for their son.

Hints On How to Prepare Cut Flowers For Fair That Will Aid Exhibitors

"No bugs -- ever."

That's the golden rule for flower exhibitors at Monterey County Fair, reminds Mrs. Gordon Chester, cut flower chairman.

Area flower growers are carefully nursing their choicest blooms now, in preparation for next month's Aug. 12 through 16 fair dates.

When exhibitors are selecting their blossoms for fair display, Mrs. Chester advises they make certain the flowers are free from blench and insect damage -- "as nearly perfect as it's possible to get."

Another good rule to remember, for gladioli exhibitors the chairman says, is to be sure all individual florets face in one direction. Straight stems are essential, too.

There are nine flower sections for gladioli at this year's fair.

All flowers should be picked early in the morning, before the sun is high, and placed immediately in tepid water to preserve their freshness.

However cut flowers aren't as fragile as many suppose, according to Mrs. Chester. Each year prize winning exhibits come from as far away as the lower Salinas Valley and Castroville. These flowers arrive in Monterey almost "as fresh and perky" as those blooms picked a block or two away from the fairgrounds, the chairman says.

For last-minute hints on how to get cut flowers ready for the fair, Mrs. Chester advises exhibitors to watch garden columns of their local newspapers. Many garden writers prepare full-length features about fair exhibition procedures just prior to the fair's opening.

For a runner-up golden rule Mrs. Chester would caution exhibitors to "Read the fair rules and follow them explicitly. If the rules say five stems of something, then don't bring four or six -- bring five, if you want to win a prize."

An innovation at last year's fair will be repeated this year, when a limited number of spectators will be allowed to follow the judges and listen to their comments as they rate the flowers.

"This is particularly good for new exhibitors," explains Eve Matuzek, floriculture chairman. "By listening to their comments exhibitors can get many valuable tips for next time. We've made room for 20 spectators in both the cut flower and arrangements judging, because we believe fair-time is a learning time."

Exhibitors who would like to reserve a place at the judging are asked to call Mrs. Matuzek (449-2652 or 424-4909), arrangements chairman Mrs. Travis Heath (449-2237) or Mrs. Chester (449-4075).

So that spectators may enjoy an ever-fresh floral display cut flowers and arrangements are changed twice during the fair, Mrs. Matuzek explains.

"Latecomers must remember the blue-ribboned flowers they see are not the same blossoms the judges saw," she emphasizes. "Our exhibitors, when they make replacements, always select the finest blossoms available but they're obviously not of the same quality as the one which won the ribbon, for exhibitors always bring their best to the fair."

Sweepstakes winners and other class winners usually remain for the full five days of the fair, even though they fade during the late fair days.

The three floriculture department officials have their fingers crossed about the prospects for the cut flower display this year. Cold weather at the beginning of the growing season, added to a late rain, may have had an adverse effect on blossoms at fair-time.

However one man's poison is another man's meat -- and one floriculture division's loss is another's gain, for the same conditions which discourage cut flowers are exactly the kind under which fuschias and begonias thrive.

This year also promises to be a good year for dahlias, Mrs. Chester believes. She reminds dahlia exhibitors to be sure to disbud in order to get the showy specimens which win prizes in flower shows (That advice applies to roses, too).

Dahlias are always the favorite display of spectators at Monterey County Fair, followed in order by roses, gladioli and hydrangeas.

Several sections have been added in the department this year, to permit an even wider range of flower exhibits.

In the class for roses, there is a new section for a fully-opened blossom of any color. A color class has been added to hydrangeas. With this year's addition of lavender there are now seven hydrangea colors to be seen at the fair -- dark blue, light blue, lavender, dark pink, light pink, white and forget-me-not.

Nasturtiums, overlooked at past fairs, have a section at the 1970 fair. So do double ruffled petunias.

If there are other flowers grown in the area, which won't find a place for display at the Monterey County Fair, the three department officials would like to know it. There's a 1971 their, the three department officials would like to know it, There's a 1971 fair only a little more than 365 days away.

and taxes paid within those figures. These payments are possible through subsidizing by the government of certain portions of the interest payment depending on the income of the family. Glass emphasized that these houses are new construction and can be bought without down payment and with only a minimum of closing costs of around $200.

Families in the $6,000 per year bracket can purchase houses in the $19,000 to $20,000, range with payments of around $100. to $106 per month. Families with up to 5 people can qualify for homes with 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. Over 5 people can obtain 4 bedroom houses.

Director Glass pointed out that this is all first class housing on individual lots, refined and well designed with carpeting throughout and certain built-ins.

Ten lots are immediately available on Yosemite in Del Monte Heights, on Highland Helena and Westminster streets. Many lots in the Hanon project will be available in the next 60 days.

In addition to the new housing Glass told of homes already built in the Marin Area that are now available. These homes 4 or 5 years old have been rehabilitated to FHA standards and have been put on the market.

"We are here to help lower income people find decent homes," stated Glass. "Our office here in the Seaside anti-poverty center is available at any time to give information and help locate these families in decent homes."

Mr. Glass moved here recently from Los Angeles and has majored in Architecture and Engineering. He became acquainted with the Peninsula area when he was the resident engineer for the Carmel Sanitary District water pollution control project.

When he was finished with that project Glass was appointed by Herb Foster, Director for the County of Monterey for the County Anti-Poverty coordinating council, to his post here in Seaside.

Glass concluded by stating that they were in no way in competition with anyone that they were only providing a public service and urged all those persons interested to contact his office at the Del Monte Boulevard location of the Anti-Poverty council, of phone 372-4377.

Bill Opposes Loan Sharking

A bill to make loan sharking operations a felony passed the Assembly Tuesday, July 21. The bill aimed at organized crime was introduced by Assembly Speaker pro Tempore Charles J. Conrad of Sherman Oaks.

Conrad's bill, an amendment to the 1918 Usury Law initiative, will be submitted to the electorate in November if the bill endures Senate scrutiny.

Loan sharking is the private lending of money at higher interest rates than legally prescribed.

Said Conrad: "The President's Task Force on organized crime states that the lending of money at higher interest rates than legally set is the second largest source of revenue for organized crime. Current law, which merely makes loan sharking a misdemeanor, is incapable of curbing or preventing this illegitimate activity.

"My bill protects the 'little guy,'" said Conrad. "Loan sharks prey on persons who do not have the collateral to secure loans through licensed lenders. These individuals, therefore, are at the loan shark's mercy. Interest rates may run as high as 150 percent a week, according to the agreement between private lender and borrower. Because the borrower is not able to pay the exorbitant interest rates, he frequently commits crimes in a futile attempt to extract himself and his family from the loan shark's grip."

"It is imperative that the citizens of California be protected from the money lenders of organized crime. I feel the only way to do this is to make loan sharking a felony," ended Conrad.

IRS Hours Changed

Uniform office hours have been established for all Internal Revenue offices in Northern California. Office hours formerly varied with office locations.

Charles E. Kingman, acting district director, announced that effective August 3, office hours for Internal Revenue employees in all district offices will be from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. This change will affect the 26 offices in the district. Kingman stated the establishment of uniform hours will enable the Internal Revenue Service to provide better service to the public.

Hal Lewis Is New Credit Manager

Appointment of Hal L. Lewis as credit manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Coast Valleys Division office, headquartered in Salinas, was announced today by manager W.L. (Bill) Murray.

Lewis, who started his PG&E career almost 16 years ago in Salinas, succeeds Stewart P. McBeth, who died last April. Lewis' responsibilities are to supervise the collection of revenues from billings and to provide staff guidance on credit problems to district managers and district customer service supervisors.

The Coast Valleys Division covers the counties of San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo and part of Santa Barbara. Lewis returns to Salinas from San Luis Obispo, where he was district customer service supervisor.

A native of Eads, Colorado, Lewis was stationed at Point Reyes Lifeboat Station with the Coast Guard during the latter part of his service. A few months before his discharge, he married the former Betty McLeod, who managed the old Salinas Transit Company.

Lewis started with PG&E in 1954 as a machine operator in Salinas following his discharge from the Coast Guard.

The Lewises now live at 706 University Avenue, Salinas, with their ten-year-old daughter Tammie. During Lewis' service in San Luis Obispo he was active in civic and community affairs, including Chamber of Commerce and Community Chest.

The State Division of Highways yesterday opened bids on the following projects:

MONTEREY COUNTY -- Constructing an overhead sign at North Main Street (Route 183) in Salinas. The cantilevered structure at Lake Street will have panels over the west lanes, indicating that the median lane leads to Route 101--Business, Monterey Street and the curb lane to Main Street and Castroville via Route 183. Three bids received. Low bidder: Rosendin Electric Inc., San Jose, $9,763.00.

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY--

Widening and resurfacing a Route 9 curve at Glengarry Road about 1.7 miles south of Felton. This portion of Route 9 is a narrow two-lane winding road through mountainous terrain. In negotiating the curve which is to be widened, vehicles wither encroach on the adjacent lane, or go off the traveled way, breaking down the edge of the pavement and causing a continuous maintenance problem. The curve will be widened to provide two 14-foot lanes with three-foot shoulder. Three bid received. Low bidder: Granite Construction Company, Watsonville, $12,228.45.

Lloyd B. Dennis, former public information aide in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D.C., has joined United California Bank as director of public affairs, it was announced by Norman Barker, president of the bank.

In the newly created post, Dennis will head up the bank's editorial communications section and will be responsible for integrating a wide variety of bank activities in areas dealing with the news media, the general public, employee, customer, stockholder, and government relations. Although he will make his headquarters in Los Angeles,

Dennis will work with and maintain liaison with all 228 statewide branch offices of the bank, and will help organize new social and economic programs in the communities served by UCB. In addition, he will be concerned with initiating new programs involving United California Bank activities with student and civic groups and in areas of social and environmental action.

Dennis, 34, served as aide to three treasury secretaries beginning in late 1966 with Henry H. Fowler, later Joseph W. Barr, and since January, 1969, David M. Kennedy. As treasury public information officer, Dennis was a speechwriter and chief spokesman on tax matters. He was involved in a wide spectrum of treasury activities, including the Johnson Administration's program to control inflation and enact the Surcharge, the Nixon Administration's One-Bank Holding Company legislation, and the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

Before entering government service, Dennis was a practicing journalist. He did largely economic reporting for Congressional Quarterly, Editorial Research Reports, an editorial news service in Washington, and for more than three years general assignment and maritime reporting for The Baltimore Sun. He began his newspaper career with The New York Times in 1958, and after a year in the editorial department was assigned to the Washington, D.C. bureau where for three years he did research and feature writing, primarily in the financial and business areas.

Dennis holds an M.A. from the School of International Service, Washington, D.C., and a B.A. from the School of Communications, Boston University. He also attended the Graduate School of Government, New York University.

He has moved his family from Bethesda, Maryland, and is now residing with his wife and two daughters in Redondo Beach.

State Division Of Highways

The California Division of Highways is today calling for bids on three projects in Monterey, San Luis Obispo and Kern counties.

A 51.6-mile segment of Route 1 in MONTEREY COUNTY is to be resurfaced between Lucia and 0.9-mile north of Ocean Avenue near Carmel. A one-inch asphaltic concrete blanket will be placed over existing pavement to provide a smoother riding surface and reduce maintenance costs.

Bids on the project, for which about $377,000 has been allocated, will be opened August 26 in Sacramento.

In SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY, two intersections with Los Osos Valley Road (Federal Aid Secondary County Road 678) are to be reconstructed to improve alignment and provide more turning space.

The two intersecting roads involved are Foothill Road and Turri Road, both west of San Luis Obispo. Total distance concerned in the reconstruction is just less than a mile.

Bids will be opened August 26 in Sacramento. Of the $157,000 available for the project, $89,961 are FAS FUNDS, $30,889 are State matching funds, and approximately $36,150 will be paid by the County.

A traffic-safety project in KERN COUNTY calls for relocating a portion of Kelso Valley Road and its intersection with Route 178 just west of Weldon.

The modifications will permit drivers a much better view of oncoming traffic.

Bids on the project, for which $30,000 is available, will be opened August 19 in Sacramento.

PG&E Plant May Help Desalt Water

Two sites for constructing test facilities to desalt ocean water have been offered to the U.S. Department of the Interior by Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

John F. Bonner, PG&E executive vice-president, said sites at the company's Morro Bay and Moss Landing Power Plants were offered to the department's Office of Saline Water for a flash desalting test module.

In addition, PG&E would make steam and several other services available at cost to OSW, which would construct and operate the facility.

OSW's objective is to develop an economic means of converting sea water to fresh water to satisfy part of the need for additional water supplies. Heat obtained from PG&E boilers at one of the power plants would be used in the OSW module to evaporate sea water.

The water testing agency currently is operating test facilities at San Diego Gas and Electric Company's South Bay Steam Plant. The plant at the PG&E site would be a different type of facility than this one.

The new plant would produce up to 2.5 million gallons of fresh water a day. The state department of water resources would then assume responsibility for disposal of the water.

PG&E also is making a joint study with DWR on locating a production desalination facility at one of the company's generating plants.

a balanced budget and prevent inflation. Neither administration has succeeded in solving this problem, mostly because they have been attempting the impossible: war means excess spending on non-productive items like guns and missiles; and excess spending on non-productive weapons means an unbalanced budget and inflation.

"Many people in our country have been unfairly hurt by this misguided brand of economics, and those most unfairly victimized have been our disabled veterans. They have already made a heavy sacrifice in this war, which is the very cause of the inflation confronting us. Then, when they come home, they are asked to make still another sacrifice by giving up first-quality medical care. I believe preserving the lives and well-being of these men is far more important than preserving the value of other people's dollars. I believe the war against inflation must be fought on other fronts, not in the wards and clinics of our veterans hospitals.

"I believe the American people must face up to the full cost of fighting a war. They must recognize that high-quality, intensive care for our wounded veterans is a basic, inescapable cost of war; and that they can no more avoid paying this cost than they can avoid paying the cost of the guns and planes and bombs we use to fight the war.

"Wars are an expensive business, especially the way we Americans are accustomed to fighting them. We demand the best possible weapons for our fighting men; we must also demand the best possible medical care for these men when they are hurt."

Travel agency newly located in the plaza is doing alright I am told.

What more and more people both inside Seaside and outside are beginning to realize is that Seaside with its 40,000 population is a good market for their wares. The majority of the people living here are from the working class and therefore have regular paychecks to spend. The large Western Auto chain recently opened an outlet up on Fremont in the Ord Terrace district. The manager told me the other day that he had a terrific response to an ad he placed with the POST. The "Closet" a new "way out" clothing store on Broadway said the same thing. We on the newspaper are feeling the rise in optimism from the community, both in our political affairs with a new council in spite of their differences, and also in the business climate. Last week we carried full page ads from the "Closet" and from "Battles Furniture Store." This week we have full pages from "Furnitureland," "Gateway Furniture" and "Rosoff's Furniture Store." Continued next week.

Where It's At

Coming events within an easy drive of the Seaside area include:

Summer Musicals in Carmel at the Circle Theater. From August 1-30, "Wonderful Town" and "Anything Goes" will be presented.

August 6-9, Santa Cruz will hold its 22nd annual antique show and sale at the Santa Cruz Civic Auditorium.

The Monterey County Fair and International Exhibition runs from August 12-16. It is open daily from 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. National Horse Show will be presented daily at 1:30 p.m. and 7:45 p.m.

The 15th Annual Seniorama will be held August 15 at 1:45 and 7:30 p.m. at the Santa Cruz Civic Auditorium.

MORE MONEY

The VA recently announced the allocation of another $5 million for various construction projects at some of its 166 hospitals.

VA Makes Contacts

Last year eight million veterans and servicemen, in this country and overseas, got the word about their government benefits programs.

The Veterans Administration explained these eight million "contacts" were in the form of personal interviews, phone calls and group orientations conducted in a variety of places.

Contact divisions in VA regional offices and U.S. Veterans Assistance Centers throughout the nation handled the bulk of information and counseling requests.

The San Francisco Regional Office of the VA provided pre-discharge veteran benefit briefings to 90,000 servicemen last year at separation points and other installations in Northern California. During fiscal year 1969, 1,100 visits were made by contact representatives to 12 separation points.

VA representatives from the Regional Office also regularly visited hospitalized servicemen in military hospitals.

Don't Cut Up With Golf Balls

Don't let children play or experiment with golf balls: the result just could be a severe eye injury.

That's the word from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, which has received a number of reports of eye injuries caused by golf balls exploding when children cut them open to "see what's inside."

The danger lies in the ball's liquid core, which is under pressure of up to 2,500 pounds per square inch and can easily explode if pierced or cut into. An additional hazard exists from the chemicals which are used to make up the cores of several brands of golf balls. The substance used for ball cores varies with the manufacturer, and the list of possible ingredients, according to information received by the Society, includes: sulfuric acid, barium salts, zinc sulfide, silicone, gelatin, corn syrup, ethylene glycol, lead oxide paste, mineral oil, sodium hydroxide, castor oil and water.

"Only recently," reports Wilfred D. Vaid, M.D., the Society's executive director, "we were apprised of a case in which an Oklahoma City fourth-grader was sprayed in the face with the liquid chemical from the core of a golf ball he had punctured. In this instance, the child was fortunate—two of his classmates had the foresight to bathe his eyes while another went for help, with the result that the boy suffered only minor eye burns."

Henderson Joins Marines

Allison Ellsworth Henderson, son of Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Henderson, of 1413 Hillby Avenue, Seaside, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps under the 180-day Delay Program. He was enlisted on 7 July and will leave for his active duty commitment on 28 August, AI for in-depth personalized bedside counseling regarding rehabilitation and other programs helpful in making a smooth transition from military to civilian life. More than 900 visits were made last year to military hospitals.

A by-product of these counseling sessions was the filing of 1,200 applications for vocational rehabilitation training and 1,700 for disability compensation.

As part of its expanded "out-reach" program, the VA Regional Office gets in touch by phone, letter or personal visit with approximately 12,000 young veterans monthly in an attempt to make certain they know about their benefits, particularly education and training opportunities under the G.I. Bill.

The San Francisco Regional Office for Northern California has also added a social worker to its assistance center staff to assure that social needs of these young veterans are met, especially those who are high school dropouts.

Tin Barn Players

The Tin Barn Players have announced casting dates for their next production, "Becket" by Jean Anouilh. Try-outs will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings (August 3, 4, and 5) at the Tin Barn Theatre on Private Bolio Road, Presidio of Monterey. On Thursday, August 6, a try-out will be held at the Youth Opportunity Center opposite the hospital on Third Avenue at Fort Ord. All readings will begin at 6:30 p.m. and last approximately two hours. These try-outs are completely open to the residents of the Monterey Bay - Salinas - Carmel area.

Fifteen male, three female, and two male children speaking parts will be cast at the readings. Also available are 10 non-speaking male and female parts and openings for dancers. This challenging drama is set in England during the rule of Henry II and concerns the conflict between the king and Thomas Becket, who later was declared a saint.

Prior experience in theatre, although helpful, is not necessary as the company has its own acting and dancing workshop programs. Anyone interested in doing technical and backstage work should attend readings also to meet the director, Fran Moitoya. For more information call Entertainment Division, Special Services at 242-5358.

QUESTION OF TIMING
A church bulletin board message in Red Bank, New Jersey, read, "It's a great deal easier to forgive an enemy after you get even with him—or a little ahead."

It Is Still Not Too Late

Veterans are reminded by the Veterans Administration that it is still not too late to enroll in college this fall under the G.I. Bill.

While many of the larger universities have already filled their freshman classes for this year, according to Gordon R. Elliott, Director of VA's Northern California Regional Office, there are many smaller colleges and junior colleges that will accept new students up until school begins in September.

However, the VA advised, it is best to enroll as soon as possible.

The VA urged veterans to contact the VA Regional Office, 49-4th Street, San Francisco, immediately to get their certificates of eligibility.

The current G.I. Bill covers men and women who served after January 31, 1955.

Grooving Around The Peninsula with Betty Mann

Hi There Fellow Peninsulans,
After reading my last week's column which contained a multitude of errors that were uncouthly created by a typesetter who either was tired or bored and wanted to hurry and get that ordeal over with, (smile). Errors that appeared were: The Photo of the Lady and the Gentleman cutting the cake, was Mr. and Mrs. Henry Singleton. The other error was the article on the wedding of Miss Gloria Booker which should have read: Miss Gloria Booker, of Seaside became the bride of Mr. John Foster, of Seaside. Future weddings around the Peninsula are: Mrs. Fredrika Evans, of Seaside, announces the engagement of her son Mr. William Alexander Parker IV, to Miss Delores Lindsey, of Seaside, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mattie Belle Harris, also of Seaside. "Lois" and "Butch" the nicknames that they are best known by, will exchange vows at a wedding ceremony, to be held Sept. 5th at 4 p.m., at the Saint Francis Xavier Church in Seaside.

DELORES LINDSEY and William Alexander Parker, IV.

Mrs. Ralph (Vera) Serrano, of Monterey, was honored at a Baby Shower on July 24th at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sal Dimaggio, of Seaside. Hostesses for the evening shower were, Mrs. Dimaggio, Mrs. Joseph Ferreira, and Mrs. Steve Bruno, the sister and aunt of Mrs. Serrano. A beautifully decorated cake and many other delectable morsels were enjoyed by the host of friends of Vera.--- If you happen to pass by the 1200 block of Lowell St. in Seaside, don't think Harry Andrews has slipped his lid; (smile) he is just thinking ahead of Xmas, in July. Harry is artfully making beautiful plywood Xmas lawn cutouts, of Santa and his Elves, and a jazzy Snowman family depicting every member of the Mann household. If anyone is interested in having Xmas scenes for their front yards, contact Harry at 1245 Lowell St., he's the man for the job.

Don't forget that tickets are available now for the Monterey Jazz Festival. I will continue to remind you blues lovers that the Sat. afternoon concerts are usually sold-out a month before the concert, so you better get yours now. It's funny how every year you see the people from this area standing outside the gates of the Fairgrounds trying to buy tickets from the ticket-hawkers and they live right here in the area and always seem to wait until it's too late to buy tickets from the agency in the area. Don't forget that Jazz-Festival tickets are sold in L.A., S.F., Oakland and other places out of town, so hurry and get yours now.

Tickets may be purchased at A.B.C. Music Store in Monterey at 409 Alvarado St., Gadsby's Music Store at 342 Main St., Salinas and the Carmel Music Store at Dolores and Sixth in Carmel. And through the week, and certain hours on Sun. The Central Box Office in Carmel has tickets for the Jazz Festival on sale, so if you can't get to the music stores on weekdays, try the Central Box Office.

On Aug. 17 - 22 will be the Bicentennials, Afro-American Week. As you have probably been reading in the paper about the different ethnic groups on the Peninsula, that have been staging their own contributions of ethnic cultures and festivities, etc. During this Bicentennial year, now it's the Black communities' time to expose their cultures and be a part of the Bicentennial celebrations. Beginning Mon., Aug. 17th there will be a plaque and flag raising ceremony in the Defendorf Plaza, located across the street from the Monterey Safeway Store. The Ceremony will begin at noon. One of the highlights of the Afro-American week will be the Tues. night shindig, that will be held at the Custom-House Plaza in Monterey. There will be on this night a "Sattidy-Night-Fish-Fry,"

Black Artists Exhibit Works

Five black artists will exhibit their paintings at the Seaside City Hall Gallery during August. The display cases will also contain black art. The public is invited from Monday thru Friday from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Sgt. Andrew Jones had art in high school at New Port News, Va., but did not continue after graduation. He began painting again after coming to Ft. Ord for duty and this is the first time he has shown his oils. David L. Stamps, also stationed at Ft. Ord, is a self-taught artist. He has combined army and art by painting murals, one at Ft. Meade and three in Wildflecken, Germany, and doing poster work at Ft. Benning and Camp Roberts. In 1969, Stamps painted the portraits of most of the staff at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C.

While studying for the ministry, James B. Sullivan paints for relaxation. He has taken courses in painting media, color and design at MPC in addition to his other studies. Sullivan received an honorable mention for his oil painting in the 1969 Seaside Art Commission Contest. In the same contest Gilbert Turner submitted two entries and both won awards. He took third place for oil and an honorable mention in graphics. Gilbert is now an art major at MPC. When he graduated from Seaside High School in June 1969, he received the Art Department Scholarship and one from the Seaside Art Commission. He is the youngest participant in this exhibit.

Seaside Art Commissioner Tom Webb is a professional artist. He has a studio at the Pacific Grove Art Center, where he paints and teaches. He is a graduate of the Famous Artists School in Westport, Conn., and has studied in Germany, the Louvre, France and MPC. Last May he had a one-man show at the Graphic Center in Sunset Center, Carmel.

Mendij Oils To Premiere

The first west coast showing of Mendij oils and lithographs will be previewed at the new Gallery of The Great Mont-Grove Craft Guild, 120 Central Avenue, Pacific Grove at 7 p.m. Friday, August 14. The work of Hungarian-born Mendij has been exhibited in Paris, Frankfurt and at New York's Guggenheim Museum. He studied painting and sculpture for six years at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris and the Academy in Dusseldorf.

In addition, his paintings are in numerous private collections including those of Edward G. Robinson, Vincent Price, Robert Calhoun, Fred May and Janet Leigh. Mendij, according to leading critics, "strips away man's surface serenity and emphasizes his inner conflict by examining the human body in a variety of superimposed compositions."

His oils on linen are prepared in several precise stages. Never using black, he brings all color to blue. With a palette knife, he first executes a textured background, and then paints his subject in translucent color.

The Gallery opened in June with a showing of nine Bay area painters and original prints by Dutch artist Maurits Escher and French lithographer Rene Magritte. On permanent display are the works of local artists. Gallery hours are Sunday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Susan Berens Ice Follies

One of the outstanding young stars appearing in the 34th edition of Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies currently at Winterland, now through September 6th, is vivacious Susan Berens.

Susan, a double Gold-medalist and a past United States representative in World competitions portrays the role of "The Flirt" in the production, "Scene of Vienna."

Susan also teamed with Richard Dwyer in the opening production number "Showtime '70" skates a very fast-paced, difficult pair. This is Susan's third year as a soloist and pair performer with Ice Follies.

Susan comes from a long line of skaters! Her mother is a skating coach and assists in setting Susan's routines. The Berens family has three girls, all skaters! Sally, 19, is also a performer with Ice Follies while little Sherry Ann 7, practices daily and enters competitions. Norval Babbie, fondly called the "Grandfather of skating," is also the Great-Grandfather of the Berens girls so skating just fell naturally into their lives.

Don't miss the current edition of Ice Follies also starring such greats as Jill Shipstad, Mr. Frick, Olympic representatives Ron and Cindy Kauffman and many other fabulous performers!

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Richard Bass of Seaside hosted an elaborate surprise birthday party in honor of his wife, Idella, Saturday evening, from 9:30 until 1:00 at the El Estero Hall in Monterey.

Approximately 100 friends attended the well-planned affair. A beautiful arranged large table was filled with all sorts of delicious foods. A champagne fountain continued to flow during the entire evening. Two large birthday cakes flanked this fountain. Cocktails were plentiful, and poured behind the smiles of the popular William Hill of Monterey. Music was provided by the English Souls, who kept the guests on their feet most of the time.

Idella, presently a full-time student at MPC, hails from Chicago. She has lived in this area since 1956. She was employed at the United States Army Hospital, Fort Ord, for many years prior to returning to school.

The Basses have one son, Dwayne, who is a student at Seaside High School.

VACATION IN L.A.

The Ezell Pritchetts of Fort Ord, spent a glorious week in Los Angeles, where they visited with relatives and friends. Mr. Albert Gaines of Monterey, a close friend of the family, flew to Los Angeles to join in the fun and motored back with the Pritchetts. In between the many parties given in honor of them, they were able to attend a ball game at Dodger Stadium.

On their return home, Mrs. Charles (Valle) Blackburn of Los Angeles, joined them for the drive back to the peninsula. While here she was the guest of Mrs. Wilbert Hopkins of Seaside.

The Pritchetts hosted a delightful cocktail dinner party in honor of Mrs. Blackburn on July 22.

Yvonne Pritchett, 17 year old daughter, also of Fort Ord and a senior at Seaside High School, is spending the summer with friends in Macon, Georgia.

FUTURE AFFAIR

The Les Grand Coeurs are making plans for their second annual Masquerade dance, to be held on Saturday, October 31, from 9 to 1 at the Monterey Fairgrounds. Be sure to keep this date opened in order to attend a night of pleasure. Prizes will be given for best costumes. Additional information will be published at a later date.

WEEKEND TRIPS

Mrs. Albert Gaines of Monterey and Mrs. Wilbert Hopkins of Seaside, spent two consecutive, enjoyable weekends with friends. During the second weekend in July, they were the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bible of Oakland and Miss Michele Francis of Berkeley. The following weekend they motored to Los Angeles, where they were entertained royally by their friends, the Charles Blackburns, Lovell Browns, Preston Jakes and Mrs. G. Davidson.

Mrs. Hopkins' purpose for being in Los Angeles was to greet her friends of 29 years, Mr. and Mrs. John Hagen of Washington, D.C., who were returning from a tour in the Orient, and had a 2-day layover in Los Angeles. Their reunion was very touching.

The Hagens, both retirees from Civil Service, having retired in October 1969, have been enjoying lots of travel recently.

BUTTER AND BOOP by Black Light, Inc.

"LOVE AND MARRIAGE... This is an appropriate vehicle to carry new Mr and Mrs. Lawrence Tiller, who were married on Saturday, July 25 at Ford Ord by the Post Chaplain of Fort Richardson, Alaska, Lt. Col. Hugh N. Barnes. The army aura to the wedding continues with the names of their parents. The bride is the daughter of Col. Hohn H. Hoyer, and Col. Norman L. Tiller is the groom's father--both of the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Ft. Ord. The bride wears her grandmother's wedding gown and drives away in a horse-drawn carriage provided by a family friend, Robert Morgan of Gilroy.

Demography Trout Plant Influences Menwear

Those demographic factors--age and population spread, income, education and job levels--are going to have great influence on menswear styles and fashions in the 1970's. That's one of the predictions of Burlington Industries, Inc., world's largest textile manufacturer.

If the indicators are to be believed, the trend to brighter colors, more avant garde styles will continue. Surprisingly this reflects not only the continuing influence of youth--but a number of other factors, including the growth in numbers of the "over-55" segment of the population.

According to the U.S. Department of the Census, two age groups within the total population of the nation are expected to show the greatest growth during the 1970's--the 18-34 age group (up 40 percent) and the over 55 group

Although the opening of deer season in the coastal region will occupy the attention of many sportsmen this week, catchable trout will be stocked in three counties for those who prefer fishing to hunting. Waters to be stocked this week are: Monterey County, Big Sur River. Santa Cruz County, San Lorenzo River, Loch Lomond Reservoir. San Mateo County, Pescadero Creek.

(up 20%). On the more youthful end of the spectrum, the trend toward self-expression in more colorful, individualistic dress will continue. On the over 55 end of the population sector, men who have been under real or imaginary limitations of dress under the requirements of the business establishment will express their new-found freedom in retirement and greater leisure in more colorful casual apparel.

VA Answers Questions

When I married my husband, a World War II veteran, I had two children who became his stepchildren. We were married only five months before his death. Would I be eligible for a VA pension, and if not, would the children be eligible?

A. You, as a widow, would not be eligible for a pension. But if the stepchildren were living with you and your husband, they would be eligible to receive VA benefits.

Q. I frequently see VA repossessed homes advertised for sale. Are these sales limited to veterans?

A. No. Anyone who qualifies may purchase these homes--veterans or nonveterans.

on Tues. night, (smiles). Also going along for a bit of Black Nostalgia, there will be chicken, pig-feet and many other Soul-Foods that many of us were so accustomed to in the old days, (smile).

For those of you who are wondering, "Why this sort of thing," well, the Portuguese, the Spanish, the Italian communities and others all reached back for their customs and foods, so let's all of us in the Black community reach back and contribute our customs and foods to the public. So if anyone who has never tasted Soul-Food, etc., it will be offered at the Custom-House Plaza on Tues. night, Aug. 18th. Also on the same night a Carinval-type atmosphere is planned. There will be an African Fashion Show, staged by Mrs. Marrie Sweet; an African Dramatic Skit (Street Dancing), with the 87th Off Broadway Band, the King Taylor Conspiracy and the Pure Essences. The English Souls and Many other rock bands contributing their music for this gala evening's festivities.

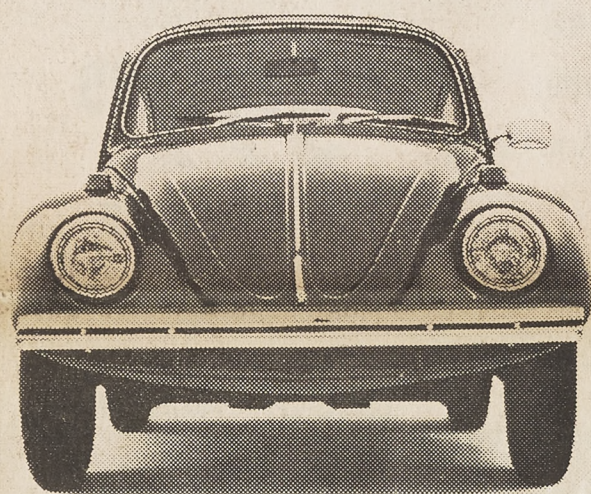

Many of the Philanthropic and Social Clubs will be donating their time and interest to the Afro, etc., Bicentennial festivities. Any organization or individuals who wish to participate in any way towards this night, please contact Mrs. Helyn Mitchel, "Chairman of Tues. night's Shindig" at 394-7143.

On Sun. evening, Aug. 30th, the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League is sponsoring a Fashion Show and Dance at the Outrigger on Cannery Row. The festivities will begin at 6 p.m.-10:30 p.m. Music will be played by the King Taylor Conspiracy, featuring the Pure Essences. Tickets for this delightful Sunday evening affair may be purchased from any member of the League or from the Debs. For info on tickets please call 394-1308.

Chevy Show Comes To Monterey

One of the best known automotive exhibits in the country opened in the Del Monte Shopping Center August 4. It's the 1970 version of the "Chevy Show", visited by millions from coast to coast since it took to the road in 1953. Feature attraction of this year's exhibit is the Monte Carlo Cutaway exhibit that shows the inside story of Monte Carlo quality and performance.

Additionally, the show features test-your-driving-skill exhibits, safety feature displays, strolling fashion show, entertainment and free pepsi for all. The show will be open continuously from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, Monday, Thursday and Friday evenings 'til 9:30 p.m., and Sunday, August 9 from 12 to 5 p.m. Admission is free. A spokesman for the show sponsor, Ernie Singleton of Roller Chevrolet, said that the Chevy Show is strategically designed to appeal to all age levels. He called it a "highly entertaining and educational program for the entire family, featuring engineering exhibits and car displays that have never been seen in this area before."

Why People Resist Belts

A tremendous amount of scientific research has gone into the problem of people refusing to wear auto safety belts.

The most recent study to come to our attention was by Dr. Paul A. Fine, who heads a famous communications research and consulting organization. What he says is interesting:

"...the most crucial fact in understanding the psychology of resistance to safety belt usage is that fastening the safety belt is a reminder being taken in a moving automobile. This is precisely why people do not 'buckle up.'"

"Some auto designs reinforce the denial mechanism, while others work against it."

KAMMBACK WAGON BY VEGA - A new type of sports wagon blending improved handling stability with cargo carrying utility is the Kammback Wagon model of Chevrolet's 1971 Vega 2300 economy car line. This four-passenger fun-to-drive vehicle has a rear window-door that lifts for maximum accessibility and a fold-down rear seat for extra load capacity. This is one of four Vega models. Better handling than usual economy cars, Vega has a new, domestic-built lightweight overhead cam engine to fill performance needs of American drivers. It gives impressive fuel economy and low emissions. Among "firsts" in economy cars are Vega's power-flow interior ventilation (with air exhausted through louvers on rear fenders), comfortable molded foam seats and steel side-guard beams in the doors. Vega models go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships on September 10.

'No Fault' Insurance Is Studied

The report on "Public Attitudes toward Automobile Insurance," recently released by the U.S. Department of Transportation, indicates once more that Americans would prefer a "no-fault" automobile insurance system over the present tort liability system according to T. Lawrence Jones, president of the American Insurance Association.

The public opinion survey was made for the Department of Transportation by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute of Social Research.

Jones said that "the results of this survey show clearly that when the people are informed of and understand the 'no-fault' or 'insure yourself' system of automobile insurance, a majority of them recognize its advantages over the present system. "This survey was unusual in that it registered the views of the persons interviewed both before and after they were informed of the features of 'no-fault' insurance. Of the families polled, 65 percent originally indicated that they were satisfied with their automobile insurance and 22 percent were not. However, after various features of insurance have been discussed, more people indicated that they favored a "no-fault" system of insurance rather than the present "fault" system."

An "insure yourself" or "no-fault" system is one in which people injured in auto crashes are assured payments from their own insurance company for their hospital and medical bills and their lost income -- but not for any "pain and inconvenience" -- without the necessity to determine legal liability or so-called "fault" for the accident.

Evidence that support for a change increase as people become more aware of the alternative was indicated also in the results of a statewide public opinion poll undertaken in Minnesota by the Minneapolis Tribune, Jones observed. That survey, he said, revealed that once the Minnesotans polled understood the features of the "no-fault" approach they endorsed it by a 2 to 1 margin. This result was a complete reversal of an earlier survey by the newspaper in which the same query was made but details of the plan were omitted, he said.

Jones also noted that the two recent findings -- the Department of Transportation study and the Minnesota poll -- paralleled a survey by the University of Illinois and another independent study conducted on behalf of the American Insurance Association.

The University survey disclosed that 71-percent of those respondents who expressed an opinion would prefer a "no-fault" auto insurance system that would pay injured motorists for medical and wage losses -- but nothing for pain and suffering -- regardless of who was to blame.

The Association's study, conducted by Opinion Research Corporation, Princeton, New Jersey, found a ratio of 2-1/2 to 1 in favor of "no-fault."

Laguna Seca Proceeds Go To Charity

tion of the Laguna Seca race course.

It was purely community effort, with no thought of profit. Since 1957 SCRAM has not only paid back all the borrowed money but contributed the money to the many charities.

It remains a great public-spirited project, with hundreds of unpaid volunteers giving their time so that most of the gate can be used for charitable purposes. All of the board members who meet year around receive no salary and even pay for their breakfasts and luncheons.

Then there are the program and ticket sellers, the traffic and parking control, the food and souvenir sales, and the many other facets that make up the complicated business of road racing. All give their time for sweet charity.

All of this is what makes Laguna Seca unique in the racing world.

Arts and Crafts

Under the auspices of the Old Monterey Bicentennial Committee, a Fine Arts and Crafts Festival of Monterey County will be held August 6-9, 10 a.m. to dusk at Custom House Plaza near Fisherman's Wharf Monterey.

Over 150 artists and craftsmen from all over California and the western states will be showing examples of their work in such diverse media as sand painting and glass-blowing, in addition to the many painters, sculptors, potters, weavers, jewelers, etc.

How often have you passed by...

a Christian Science

Reading Room and assumed it was maintained just for Christian Scientists?

Actually, the Reading Room is there for you.

The Christian Science Reading Room offers a quiet, peaceful haven where you may pray or just think things through. There you may read, borrow, or purchase the Bible... the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy... The Christian Science Monitor, a worldwide daily newspaper... and other authorized Christian Science literature.

Next time you're passing a Christian Science Reading Room, remember, it's there for you.

Jazz Festival Tickets On Sale

Single tickets to the 5 individual concerts of the 13th annual Monterey Jazz Festival went on sale August 3.

To date only season tickets to all 5 concerts have been sold. The Monterey Jazz Festival is scheduled for Sept. 18, 19 and 20 in the 7000-seat outdoor arena of the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

Single tickets are $6.50, $5 and $4 for the three evening concerts and $4 and $3 for the two afternoon concerts. All seats are reserved.

Tickets are available by mail order from the Monterey Jazz Festival, POB JAZZ, Monterey, CA 93940 or call (408) 373-3366.

Tickets are also available from the Downtown Center Box Office, 325 Mason St., San Francisco, (415) 775-2021; Sherman Clay, Broadway at 21st St., Oakland, 444-8575; ABC Music Store, 409 Alvarado St., Monterey, 373-1882; Gadsby's Music Store, 342 Main St., Salinas, 424-6421, and Carmel Music Store, Dolores and Sixth, Carmel, 624-9695.

Maps Now Available

Maps showing the areas in which special deer hunts will be held this year have been delivered to sporting goods stores and Department of Fish and Game offices throughout the State. The maps also list the deadlines for applying for these hunts.

This year the Fish and Game Commission approved 21 special hunts for antlerless or either sex deer. A total of 9,225 permits were authorized.

Harlem Prep Says Thanks

A special award was presented at the third annual commencement ceremonies of the Harlem Preparatory School to Frankfort Distillers Company "for outstanding service in furthering the purpose of Harlem Prep."

Sales representative James F. Veal accepted the award on behalf of the company. Veal first directed the attention of Frankfort Distillers Company to the special need being filled by Harlem Prep.

"Harlem Prep undertakes to help youngsters, most of them in their teens, who had earlier dropped out of school and the life of their community," Veal said. "I thought that if anyone was willing to try to help them, I wanted to do what I could, too. I tried to raise scholarship money. And with the cooperation of my employer, Frankfort Distillers Company, I was really able to help."

Harlem Prep had 83 graduates this year, 26 of them girls. This means 83 young adults -- early school-leavers, despairing, discouraged about their place in things -- who have now earned academic high school diplomas. Every one of them has been accepted at a college in the fall.

Agency Warns

Backyard barbecue chefs who decide to cook with charcoal indoors are risking death, the Food and Drug Administration says.

Burning charcoal releases large amounts of carbon monoxide gas. In enclosed, unventilated areas this can result in severe poisoning or death, according to James D. Grant, FDA deputy commissioner.
